

Cheat sheet for beginning and ending a Royal Court

Beginning Court with Their Majesties already seated in place

Herald: Oyez, Oyez! Pray gather for the Court of Their Majesties [name] and [name] King and Queen of Lochac.

When the populace have gathered, quietly ask the Crown: Your Majesties, have they Your leave to be seated?

If permission is given

Herald: You have Their Majesties leave to draw nigh and make yourselves comfortable [leaving an aisle].

Ending Court.

After the last item of business on the Court list, ask Their Majesties if they have any closing remarks

If, so

Herald: Pay heed to the words of the Crown

King/Queen: Such words as They wish

If not, or after TRM have finished speaking:

Herald: There being no further business, all rise. Long live the King!

populace echoes

Herald: Long live the Queen!

populace echoes

Herald: For [Crown Prince and Princess /the Baron and Baroness of [place] and] the nobles and Peers of Lochac, three cheers, Hip, hip...etc.
